There are persons so radiant, so genial, so kind, so pleasure-bearing, that you instinctively feel in their presence that they do you good, whose coming into a room is like the bringing of a lamp there.

—Henry Ward Beecher.

THAT STEAM ROLLER BUSINESS.

The Republican ticket has been named. It is a fairly good ticket, and for a machine ticket pure and simple. It is surprising how well it is lined up. There is not a man on it who is not the creation of a set of as slick politicians as ever any party was dominated by. And their grandstand play is "no money," "no whisky" and "no anything else."

Now let us look into it just a bit. There was Roy Cain, than whom no niner young man was ever reared, and a young man who comes from a family of original Republicans, and a young man of highest integrity and the soul of honor, a young man whom any Republican would have gladly supported, a young man who has been an announced candidate for the office of County Court Clerk for almost a year, a young man who would have taken charge of the office and run it with his own hands and his own ability: this young man was given the grand bounce simply for the reason that he had no money to put into the campaign. Let any man deny this if he will! And yet that little band of machine workers and office-holders have the audacity to say that there is no money in this race! Steam Roller No. 1.

Now what did they do in the County Judge's race? The same kind of a roller was rolled over Judge Ahl. He was absolutely the choice of the rank and file of the Republican party, and would have been the choice of that convention but for the mandate of the bosses, who not more than a week before the precinct meetings, sent out word to vote for another man.

Why was this done? Simply for the reason that Judge Ahl had no money to put into the campaign. He had ability and a splendid record as a former County Judge, but none of the sweet morsels that make Republican bosses smile. Steam Roller No. 2.

Next came the Sheriff's ticket. The Roller was run over him early in the action. His performing was not to their liking and Samuel had to stand back. Steam Roller No. 3.

In the race for Jailor there were a number of good fellows, tried and true, who have worked day and night, in season and out, and the Roller was passed over these poor fellows simply for the reason they couldn't command the "stuff." Steam Roller No. 4.

And there's our good old friend, Dave Henry, who has worked and worked, talked and talked to every train that has passed over the Henderson Route for the last six months, how he was going to be the man who would regulate everybody and everything, and how he was going to do for the "dear people," he too, came under the ban of the bosses, and two Steam Rollers were run over him.

And now for this set of political tricksters to get up and make a grandstand play of no money or whisky in this race. It is just what they have been playing for for the last six months; to find a few fellows who were willing to put up the stuff to start the machine a rolling.

If they wanted to make a fare and square race, and give every man a square deal, why didn't they put up the men who had no money and wanted to make the race, and take them to the "dear people" without money and without price? Then there would have been some sincerity in their "no money" business.

And that young man from Owensboro, who lives in Owensboro and votes in Hardinsburg, and who was born in a mansion and reared in a log cabin—just for this special occasion. He had the stuff and the backing of a good piece of Federal pie, he is the high muck-muck who will make the old hills of Breckenridge ring with great joy and a grand hallelujah. He was the fireman on the Steam Roller.

Next Tuesday the gates of the great Breckenridge County Fair at Hardinsburg will open for three days of recreation, mirth and festivities. It will be one of the greatest events ever offered to the people of this county. There will be something doing of interest every day, and if you fail to attend you will miss the time of your life. The management has left nothing undone to make the event one worth attending. Get ready; take your family; see your friends, and have one good time.

The Prospect For The Common Carriers

"The railroads will presently be confronted with a volume of traffic greater than they can handle."

An immense, an overwhelming movement of commodities is the outward and visible manifestation of prosperity. It suggests and it is commonly accepted as the realization of ideal conditions conducive to happiness and the common welfare.

To whose advantage should such conditions inure if not to that of the great common carriers?

A few years ago, before demagoguery gained a momentary ascendancy and upset the public confidence, we were met with a new proposition. In the face of transportation, which might be phrased thus: Under certain conditions the net of a railroad is inversely as the magnitude of its gross.

In other words, after a fixed point in the operation of a railroad has been passed its net earnings decrease in a more or less exact proportion as its gross earnings increase.

A railroad which is earning $10,000 a mile meets its fixed charges, discharges all its obligations, provides for renewals and betterments and distributes a satisfactory dividend to its stockholders.

As matters become more prosperous its earnings advance to $12,500 a mile and it continues to meet its fixed charges, discharge all its obligations and distribute a satisfactory dividend to its stockholders. Renewals and betterments are overlooked.

With still increasing prosperity its earnings advance to $15,000 a mile and it meets its fixed charges, discharges its obligations, goes head over heels in debt for renewals and betterments and distributes to its stockholders a dividend which it has not earned.

If prosperity maintains its increase and the gross earnings are still abruptly enlarged the railroad goes into the hands of a receiver.

There are railroads which may at no very distant time repeat this experience.

The strongest of our railroads have taken their recent lesson to heart and are prepared for a greater expansion in the transportation trade than has yet been known. With such roads the ratio of net to gross earnings will not be seriously changed by the increased movement. But for most railroads prosperity has its terrors, and they are even greater than those that follow the wake of hard times. Every body has to take his share of the latter, but in the former the railroad suffers alone.

On its surface the railroad condition of the present is the most hopeful and the most (superficially) satisfactory that has been known. The prelate return to sanity, imposed by late conditions, has induced sound economic practice, and this is as apparent in the efficiency of the workers as it is in the abstracts of operation. How long will the railroads hold to this wholesome state of things? We do not know.

There are signs in the air that are disturbing. There are symptoms of an expansion that is premature. There is a cutting that is not prompted by the spirit of competition but is promoted by the everlasting personal ambition and by advantages which if they exist are not intended for the public or for the stockholders.

As for the attitude of the Federal Government, it is of unimpeachable urbanity. In saying this we mitigate no particle of our disgust and abomination of the corporation income tax, a feeling engendered by its inherent dishonesty and the scandal of its partition. What we desire to imply is that no respectable and decently managed railroad has anything to fear from Mr. Taft or from his mah Vishnu. There is nothing in danger except dishonesty, and if this Administration can extricate from our corporation management whatever there remains in it of dishonesty it will do nothing else that will win it greater approbation.

The Sherman anti-trust act is not to be amended, but its amendment need excite no alarm in any honest corporate soul. It is proposed to make it less of a "Rule Appropriate for Guidance in the Violent Wards of a Lunatic Asylum" and more of an intelligible and reputable enactment. As there is no disgrace. It was passed not to be enforced but for sheer demagoguery and vulgar trickery. It remained upon the tables of the law until it was taken up for purposes of blackmail and foul politics. The sooner there is an end to it the better.

No honest corporation, railroad or other, need now be timid about any proposed Federal enactment. What all corporations may well dread is the subtle intimation of laws, existing or proposed behind which lie blackmail and coercion, and of which the enforcement can be evaded by each or its equivalent in political abasement.

A railroad which is honestly administered is conducted in the interest of the public and in the interest of its stockholders. When the president or other responsible official of a railroad is a scoundrel in a corporation which is a scoundrel, it is not surprising that that railroad buys its drawbacks, or in another corporation from which it buys its electrical machinery, or in one which makes a specialty of car wheels or in another which supplies the railroad its oil and grease, or in yet another from which it gets its coal, the chances are that that particular railroad is a defaulter to the public and is no more a respecter of the law than is a respecter of the rights of its stockholders.

There is no serious trouble in sight for the railroads except the approach of a prosperity which will overtax the powers of too many of them. When James J. Hill appealed people by proclaiming that the railroads needed a billion for betterment he would have been more nearly right had he said that they must have two billion, and that they must have it quick too!—New York Sun.

Cataract Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Cataract is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Cataract Cure is not a quick medicine. It was described by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. Pretty Straight Talk.

A number of Democratic candidates we are told, have reached an "understanding" whereby they will not announce their candidacy. This, of course, is for the purpose of saving the little measly fee that comes to a country paper once in four years. The parties are nominated and the voters elect themselves by coming around and announcing after receiving the nomination, but this little notice is for the purpose of warning these fellows that if this paper isn't good enough to be used before the nomination there is a chance for some of them not to bring good enough after they are nominated. Call it graft or whatever you please,

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.

Joseph Hudson Passes Away... Other News Around the County Capital.

Joseph Hudson, one of the oldest citizens of our county, lacking but two days of being ninety years of age, died August 15, at the home of his son-in-law, Dr. E. K. Wilson, a few miles from Vine Grove.

Mr. Hudson's home was near Hudson, this county, where he had led an active life of usefulness. On the fourth of this month he was hurt in a runaway from which he never recovered.

His wife's death occurred eleven years ago. The four surviving children are: Mrs. Susan Johnson, Mrs. R. R. Wilson and the sons Abasalom, of Louisville, and J. T., of Hudson. The deceased was a Union soldier. In religion he was a Methodist. On the nineteenth anniversary of his birth his remains were laid to rest in the Hudson burying ground at Hudsonville.

R. S. Skillman, known to almost every man in the county as one of our most popular and most honored citizens, is here for several days visiting friends.

Judge H. DeH. Moorman will accompany Dr. Mather Thursday to the appointments in the educational campaign the doctor is making throughout the county. They will speak as follows on Thursday, August 26, of this week: Balltown at 10 a. m.

Terfork at 3 p. m. McQuady at 8 p. m.

All people, especially patrons and parents, are urged to be out to hear the addresses made by these public spirited men whose interest in the betterment of educational conditions impels them to give their time and energy to the cause.

GOES UP WITH A LOUD REPORT.

Furrow Wild in First Two Innings And Lets Patesville Make Twelve Runs—An Awful Catastrophe.

LEWISPORT JUNIORS DEFEATED.

Wasn't it awful. The local bunch went to Patesville Friday. What an unlucky day for such an undertaking.

The cream of ball tossers from that section of the country were there and they defeated our blue ribbon warriors by the score of 22 to 5.

One Layton Furrow, the star pitcher for the locals, was rapped for sixteen safe hits in the opening round netting the enemy six tallies. The six-run performance was repeated again in the second and the locals were walloped to the tune of 22 to 5.

Southpaw, Newton, had them at his mercy. He thought it would be too bad to blank the locals so he let them have five runs to keep them from crying. Still the score was 22 to 5.

The Patesville boys certainly got revenge for the bad luck game they lost here several weeks ago and sent our boys back to town by the score of 22 to 5.

They placed their hits wherever they wanted to. When the locals played up they would knock them over their heads. When they played back they would knock them in the diamond. So this account for the score being 22 to 5.

Get Even With Hardinsburg
 The local ball team defeated the Hardinsburg nine by the score of 7 to 3. Hemphill for the locals was the star performer on the mound, and won his own game with his puzzling breaks.

Pumpkin Rollers Defeat Juniors.
 Jaley Whitehead was in the best of form Sunday and his curves were the chief cause of the defeat handed the first Lewisport Junior team at the Pumpkin Roller park. White and Gregory twirled for Lewisport but were given weak support. Score 9 to 4.

Entertain For Visitors.
 Miss Susette Sawyer, one of the charming members of the younger set, delightfully entertained a number of her friends at her home on Houston street last Thursday evening in honor of her visitors, Misses Francis and Irene Lambert, of Memphis. A watermelon feast was enjoyed during the evening. Those present were: Misses Susette and Francis Sawyer, Francis and Irene Lambert, Mildred Habbage, Messrs. Harold Murray, William White, V. Alexander Babbage, Glen Rudelise and Everett Storms.

FOR THE BUNGALOW.

The Furnishings Should Be Simple, Artistic and Inexpensive.

COLOR SCHEME IMPORTANT.

In Floor Coverings an Arts and Crafts Square is Very Satisfactory For Living or Dining Rooms—Mission Chairs and Demin Hangings Effective.

For furnishing a bungalow there is plenty of simple, inexpensive furniture available, and it only requires a little thought on the part of the owner to make her rooms comfortable and cozy. Next to simplicity of design, harmony of color is the most important consideration. In a living room hung with Japanese grass cloth in a light green shade or tinted a soft brownish gray the cushions of the armchairs and window seat should be of dark green or some other equally good contrasting color.

AGE OF ECZEMA BEYOND WORDS

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Torturing Humor—Hair All Fell Out and Ears Seemed Ready to Drop Off—Clothing Would Stick to Bleeding Flesh—Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

CASE SEEMED HOPELESS BUT CUTICURA CURED HER

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked like a piece of raw meat rather than a human being. The pain and agony I endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sores on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did not help, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Hemorrhoid. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. I was so grateful as I lay to a burning tongue I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Laxative for the bowels. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I cannot praise Cuticura enough. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. My condition was so terrible that what cured me cannot fail to cure anybody of this awful disease. If any one doubts the truth of this letter, tell them to write to me, Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

color, and the rugs upon the floor should be of corresponding tones, but light, fadable tints should never be employed in conjunction with such a wall treatment.

The illustration shows a charmingly furnished living room. The walls are hung in dark green grass cloth, and the woodwork is stained white. The fireplace at one side of the room is constructed of red brick laid in white mortar, and the narrow mantel above is stained to match the woodwork. Simple white muslin curtains shade the long, narrow windows, which open outward, and a few prints and a small mirror adorn the walls. The couch and chairs of polished hard wood, with rattan backs and seats, are fitted with cushions covered with denim in tones that harmonize with the wall hangings. An arts and crafts desk and stool, painted white, stand in one corner, and four small tables serve as receptacles for magazines and various knickknacks. A large rug in shades of green and red is placed before the fireplace and adds a note of brightness to a very pretty whole.

In the choice of floor coverings for the bungalow there is a varied supply to choose from. For the living room a

Land In Arkansas

Say, did you know that Arkansas today is one of the greatest RICE PRODUCING STATES in the Union? No state has so many favorable conditions to the growth of this most profitable crop, and no state produces so much per acre.

The water is plentiful and of the very best quality; the land is good and practically level, hence not expensive to prepare for the crop; the climate is ideal, the summers being sufficient long for the crop to fully mature, and the winters cold enough to kill the stubble and thus prevent Red Rice and other harmful growths. The yield is from 30 to 140 bu. per acre and as fine quality as produced anywhere. It brings in the market from $1.00 to $1.50 per bushel.

We have many desirable tracts that are well suited to RICE that we are selling now from $15.00 to $25.00 per acre, but they will soon be worth several times that price. Write us at once large art square of wool and cotton weave is very suitable. It comes in various shades and can be purchased for $15. It will last four or five seasons. An arts and crafts art square is very satisfactory for either the living room or dining room and can be purchased at any handicraft shop for $20. It can be made to order in any shade and design desired and will wear longer than the majority of floor coverings and always look well.

Then there is a large brown wool rug which comes with a border of brown and yellow and which is admirably suited for a room where the mission type of furniture is employed, as is a Scotch rug, a woolen product, finished alike on both sides, which comes in various sizes, the 9 by 12 size costing $38.

SHIRT WAIST FOR BUSINESS WEAR.

severe styles when one's heart longs for frilly, dainty clothes, and it is generally women that have never done a day's work downtown in dail clothes who are first to criticize a girl for wearing pretty garments to business. The love of the beautiful can never be stifled in womanhood no matter how much she may be tied down to iron rules and regulations, and it would indeed be a sorry, dull old world if it were not for the dainty feminine quality.

It is rather difficult to find a new model for the tailored waist, but one unusually smart is shown in the sketch and may be developed in linen, madras or percale. There are a pretty shaped yoke and a double box plait at the front. The buttons form an attractive note and may be of pearl or self covered. The skirt may match the blouse if linen is used or form a contrast. The newest sleeves show more fullness at the elbow or wrist, a number being on the bishop order, popular several seasons ago.

Poultry Secrets Disclosed!

THERE are secrets in the poultry business, as in any other; the best methods and newest discoveries seldom reach the amateur poultry raiser and the general public for years after they are originated. A new method of absolutely insuring the fertility of setting eggs, for example, has

and its discoverer is not to be blamed for keeping it to himself. Now, for the first time, the secrets of many of the most successful poultrymen are made public. No confidence has been violated, every secret has been

Obtained in an Honorable Way

(1) by outright purchase; (2) by free permission given the author, Michael K. Borer, (3) by collecting old, valuable, but little known methods; (4) by Mr. Borer's own experience covering 30 busy years. Since this book was first written four or five months ago, it has been necessary to print eight editions, and many new and valuable secrets have been added to the original book.

A Few of the More Important Secrets

How to select the best setting eggs. Wood's ingenious method of drying, incubating and hatching. L. K. Field's System of Incubation without the least danger to the chicks. Selecting the best incubator, the best of the market. How to select and raise the best. The Delta System, a 100% reliable method of raising the best. Several new feed formulas, many of them the same as experts' selected feeds. The "10 cents a bushel" method of producing green feed. Lush's method of feeding by the day and other new rules for feeding corn and grain. Trueman's Secret of obtaining high market prices for poultry. The Angel method, admirably adapted to the small Back in Village or Suburb. Granady's method of obtaining bulky food at a cost of 2 cents a bushel. Dr. Wood's Secret of Laying Food for producing eggs. Professor Rice's Fat Hen Secret explaining why lean hens don't lay.

AND MANY OTHERS, NOT ENUMERATED HERE.

It would be absurd to expect every bit of this information to be unknown to everyone; we make no such claim. But to the great majority of poultrymen it will be absolutely new, and of great value.

ABOUT FARM JOURNAL.—Farm Journal has for thirty years made a specialty of poultry. This department is widely read and more valuable than any special poultry paper. This is only one reason, however, of its remarkable success as a weekly with an average circulation of 100,000. Not a day goes by without a special paper, full of medical and poultry ailments, but a reputation for the home—how, illness or accident, will produce and illustrate, show, cure, operate and show. (Specially printed) especially at home on a thousand-acre farm or on a suburban back porch; and in a few days it is gone.

OUR OFFER: (One Copy Poultry Secrets, Farm Journal - 3 Years) All 3 for $1.00 (We cannot mail "Poultry Secrets" by itself—only in this combination.)

Many Cloverport Readers Have Heard It And Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Cloverport are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many of these who were back-ache had, as we know, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands upon thousands of people are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Mrs. Chas. Egeman, Central Ave., Elizabethtown, Ky., says: "On April 8, 1903, my husband recommended Doan's Kidney Pills in my behalf stating that they had been of great value to me in removing pains from my back and other difficulties arising from disordered kidneys. I can now add that during the four years which have elapsed, I have used the remedy on several occasions when suffering from acute attacks of backache and it has never failed to help me. A number of persons seeing my statement in the paper, have called upon me and I have always told them that Doan's Kidney Pills are an excellent remedy."

Don't make you weary to read the rest of these well-brained editorials the metropolitan press who are repeatedly ridiculing the country papers on their localities? These two-hundred inch-counter finds think it awfully funny when some country newspaper says: "Hiram Slocum has sold his Holstein cow to Ed Clappers." But of course it is just the proper chapter when they say: "Franklin Oliver Lowden has just returned from the Epson Lefkner fence. 'On that's great!' That bull pen would bring about thirty cents in the dog-pound, while Slocum's cow would sell for $50 in the dark. Because

"PE-RU-NA DID WONDERS FOR ME."

MRS. ROSA BOYER, 121 Sherman Ave., Evanston, Ill., writes: "If any one has reason to praise Peru-na it is surely myself."

"Last spring I became so run down from the serious effects of a lingering cold, that several complications united in pulling me down. I could neither eat nor sleep well, and lost flesh and spirit. I finally tried Peru-na and it did wonders for me. In two weeks I was like another person, and in a month I felt better than I ever had before. 'I thank Peru-na for new life and strength. I send you two pictures, so you can see what Peru-na has done for me.'"

Better Than For Years.

Mrs. Mary F. Jones, Burning Springs, Ky., writes:

"I wish to speak a word in praise of your highly valued Peru-na, as I have been blessed with the golden opportunity of giving it a fair and impartial test, and can say that I have had better health, far better, since I have been using it than for quite a number of years before."

"One of my neighbors had stomach trouble. I recommended Peru-na to her, and now she is well and healthy, after having been pronounced hopeless by several physicians."

Gusle Davis was over at Guards Point Sunday to see his best girl they throw a stone, but it William Henry Harrison Poole, the society leader, was in Milwaukee last Saturday to see Miss Gerlie Cabot, they would do her over half a column and have three pictures of Gerlie and William Henry on the front page."—Exchange.

BIG SUIT.

Mrs. Elizabeth May and Children

Win a Big Suit in the Circuit Court.

The suit of Mrs. Elizabeth May and her children against the executors of the estate of Fred Walter, viz: A. B. Skillman and W. G. Smart, was decided by Judge Weed Chief in a written opinion handed down last week, in which he holds that the executors should be discharged from any further control of the property of Mrs. May, belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth May and her children.

This suit has been pending for some time, and has been under submission since last May, on a motion made by the attorneys for Mrs. May to discharge the trustees, A. B. Skillman and W. G. Smart. The grounds set forth on this motion were embraced in a petition in which the plaintiffs allege that the trustees have no active duties to perform as such, being what the law terms "a naked, dry trust," and that they for this reason should be discharged.

The executors of the will hold in trust quite a large fund for Mrs. May under the will of Fred Walter, deceased, and she and her children set up a claim to this more than a year ago asking that the money be paid over to them. The executors resisted this contention, but the court holds now for very salient reasons set forth in the opinion that they should be discharged.

V. G. Babbage, of this city, and the Hon. D. W. Farleigh, of Louisville, are the attorneys for Mrs. May.

Mapother Tipped to Head L. H. & St. L.

It is reported in railroad circles that W. L. Mapother, first vice president of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, will be elected president of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railway at the next meeting of the board of directors of the latter road. The position was made vacant by the death of Col. Attilla Cox. Mr. Mapother is a member of the directorate of the Henderson route.

Mr. Mapother has made a phenomenal record with the Louisville & Nashville railroad, rising within a few years from the position of secretary to President Milton H. Smith to that of first vice president of the road. If he should become president of the Henderson route, he will be one of the youngest railroad presidents in America.
